2018 Robert C. Haddon Memorial Endowed Graduate Award

Department of Chemistry, University of California, Riverside

Purpose: The Robert C. Haddon Memorial Endowed Graduate Award was established by the Haddon family in memory of Professor Haddon to encourage excellence in research. It will be awarded to a graduate student in the Chemistry department who has demonstrated talent in research, especially in the areas of materials chemistry, electronic materials, organic conductors, nanotechnology, and engineering.

Award Amount: Approximately $1,000.

Selection Criteria and Eligibility Requirements: Eligible students must be enrolled in the Chemistry graduate program, have demonstrated talent in research, and must be making acceptable progress within normative time toward a degree. All eligible students will be considered, but students who have demonstrated one or more of the following criteria are especially encouraged to apply:

- Outstanding achievements in research and a capacity to contribute to the advancement of knowledge in chemistry, materials science, engineering, or physics by pursuing original and creative work.
- Research in the areas of materials chemistry, electronic materials, organic conductors, nanotechnology, and engineering.
- Dedication to the student's own career.
- Limited access to other funding resources. Financial need will be a consideration among equally meritorious candidates.

Applications will be evaluated by the Chemistry Department Graduate Studies committee.

Application Deadline: March 1, 2018.

Application Process: Interested students should submit a curriculum vitae and a 1-page statement of their research accomplishments, and arrange for one letter of recommendation (sent separately, typically from the student's dissertation advisor). Students may include a brief statement of financial need, if appropriate. Email application materials in PDF format to the Chemistry Graduate Advisor, Professor Gregory Beran (gregory.beran@ucr.edu). The recipient will be announced by the end of Winter Quarter 2018.
